THE REEL WORLD

SMALL-LABEL CELTIC AND ENGLISH MUSIC

BY TOM NELLIGAN

Much more traditional-sounding is the Ohio quartet Knot Fibb'n, whose CD True [self-produced KF9284 (2003)] features a principal instrumental blend of flute or whistle, accordion, guitar, and percussion. The nine tune sets are simply arranged, focusing on one or two instruments rather than burying the melody under a wall of sound. They do a nice job covering Dougie MacLean's "Garden Valley," and there's a good-natured and hopefully instructive song about the dangers of driving home after a night in the pub called "The Garda Car."
